

THE UCSB
MULTICULTURAL CENTER & THE EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM PRESENT

THE WISDOM OF WINONA LADUKE
WE HAVE TO FIGHT

RSVP ONLINE:
[bit.ly/
mcc-winona](http://bit.ly/mcc-winona)

Congregating at the Oceti Sakowin Camp in North Dakota, the largest historical gathering of Native American tribes rose to national and international attention as they and their allies stood in solidarity against the Dakota Access Pipeline. The Chumash Coastal Band will formally welcome Winona LaDuke, an internationally renowned indigenous activist, for a screening of Lucien Reed's 2016 short Mni Wiconi. LaDuke, Executive Director and co-founder of Honor the Earth, will speak to the successes and continued struggles faced by those moving from Standing Rock to Washington, D.C. and beyond.

CO-SPONSORED BY EOP, THE GLOBAL ENVIRONMENTAL JUSTICE PROJECT, UCSB CRITICAL ISSUES IN AMERICA: "CLIMATE FUTURES: THIS CHANGES EVERYTHING," AND THE CENTER FOR BLACK STUDIES RESEARCH.

MON, MAY 15, 7 PM
SCREENING & DISCUSSION /
POLLOCK THEATER

RECEPTION/AMERICAN INDIAN
CULTURAL RESOURCE CENTER AT THE
SRB: MON, MAY 15, 5:30 PM
OPEN TO UCSB STUDENTS

For more information or assistance in accommodating people of varying abilities contact the MultiCultural Center at 805.893.8411
FOR THE FULL SPRING 2017 CALENDAR VISIT MCC.SA.UCSB.EDU

